

Home

My Network

Jobs

Messaging

Notifications

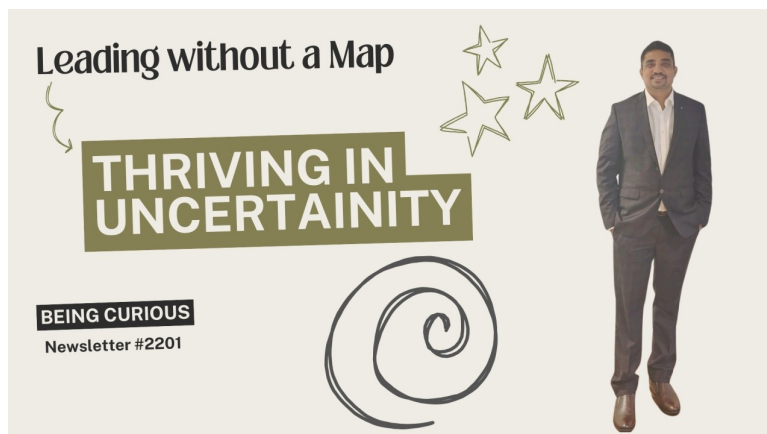

Me

For Business

Edit articleView statsView postBeing Curious

2,671 subscribers

✓ Subscribed

Leading without a Map: Thriving in Uncertainty

Vikas Surani

Global Vice President – Growth | TEDx Speaker | IIMA

March 3, 2025

Hello Curious Minds,

What if I told you that the best leaders aren't the ones with all the answers — but the ones who ask the right questions when there's no clear path? 🤔

Leadership, for the longest time, was seen as having a roadmap — a step-by-step plan, a fixed strategy. But let's be real — in today's fast-paced business world, the landscape shifts before you've even finished plotting the course. AI advancements, digital disruption, evolving customer expectations — the only constant is change. 🔥

So, what sets great leaders apart?

They don't fear uncertainty — they embrace it. 💡

The Reality of Modern Leadership

Gone are the days when leadership meant commanding from a place of certainty. Today's most impactful leaders know that ambiguity isn't a roadblock — it's an invitation. An invitation to think differently, act boldly, and move forward even when the path is unclear.

The truth is, leadership isn't about predicting the future — it's about

The truth is, leadership isn't about predicting the future — it's about preparing for it. ✨

🧭 The Unseen Skill: Leading Without a Map

Great leaders aren't fortune tellers. They're explorers. 🌐

When faced with uncertainty, they:

- 🎯 Focus on direction, not destination: Instead of fixating on a fixed outcome, they set a clear purpose and pivot when needed.
- 🚀 Prioritize progress over perfection: They understand that waiting for perfect clarity means waiting too long.
- ❓ Ask: What's the next best move? — knowing that small, decisive steps often lead to bigger breakthroughs.

A Personal Reflection

One of the most profound leadership lessons I've learned came not from a boardroom strategy session, but from building and leading teams through uncharted territories. 🌊

There was a time when I was tasked with forming a new team to tackle a critical phase. The pressure was intense, and the path ahead was anything but clear. Each team member brought a unique strength — but also their own uncertainties. The roadmap? Uncertain.

In those moments, I realized leadership wasn't about having all the answers — it was about creating a safe space where ideas could collide, evolve, and transform into solutions. I asked my team a simple yet powerful question: "What's the one thing we know for sure — and how can we build from there?" 🤔

That shift in mindset was a game-changer. It encouraged open dialogue, fostered collaboration, and empowered the team to take bold steps, one at a time. The result? Not only did we overcome the challenges, but we also built a foundation of trust and resilience that strengthened us for future endeavors. 🙌

The lesson? Adaptability is the new certainty. 💡

🔥 The Challenge

So here's a question for you — When was the last time you led through uncertainty? Was there a moment when you didn't have all the answers but still took a bold step forward? 💬

I'd love to hear your stories in the comments — because leadership isn't about having a perfect map, it's about moving forward even when the road ahead is still being drawn. 🗺️

Let's keep leading, learning, and embracing the unknown. ✨

Until next time,

Vikas Surani ✨

📢 Giveaway Alert! 🎁 This week's Being Curious book giveaway goes

1.3. Giveaway Alert: 🎉 This week's Being Curious book giveaway goes to Raushan Kumar — a subscriber, a well wisher, and a curious mind.

Want to be next? Drop your story in the comments & let's keep the curiosity flowing! 📖

UPDATED EDITION

MILLION-COPY BESTSELLER

'Essential
reading for anyone with aspirations'

MATTHEW SYED,
author of
BOUNCE

mindset

Changing the way you think to fulfil your potential

DR CAROL S. DWECK

Being Curious: Raushan x Vikas

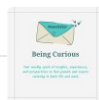

Comments

 32

  Support  Comment  Share

Share your support...

No comments, yet.
Be the first to comment.
Start the conversation

Being Curious

A weekly newsletter where I share quick insights, experiences, and lessons learned from my journey.

Nirav, Anshika and 2,446 connections are subscribed

2,671 subscribers

✓ Subscribed